1.10 Analysis of User Behaviour / Cookies

When using the app, we create user segmentation profiles for the purposes of statistical analysis and assign these, if possible, to you, your e-mail address or customer number. Unless this data is technically necessary to ensure the functionality of the app, we also collect and we use this data only if you have consented to our tracking technologies (see also paragraph 2 of this data protection policy). This includes the following processing:

The following purposes are pursued with the analysis:

- Optimisation of our service and their functions,
- Improving our offer and marketing of products of the Lidl companies via (advertising) campaigns,
- Displaying interest-based advertisements (e.g., via push messages and advertising banners on third-party services).

In order to be able to display interest-based information to you, it is necessary to be able to assign the above-mentioned analysis to you as a person. For this purpose, we establish a connection to your customer number from the time the registration is completed. Your consent to the provision of personalized information allows us to carry out this processing.

The app also uses A/B Testing, Analytics, Cloud Messaging, Crashlytics, Dynamic Links, In-App Messaging, Performance, Predictions and Remote Config. These are analytics services provided by Google. We have concluded a processing agreement with Google (see also sections 2 and 3.1 of this data protection policy).

For this analysis and the displaying of personalized advertising, we use the following advertising identifiers: (i) IDFA (Identifier for Advertising = advertising identification for iOS devices) or (ii) the Android advertising ID or (iii) Huawei ID, the IP-/ MAC address, the HTTP header as well as a fingerprint of your end device (additionally: time of access, country, language, local settings, operating system and version as well as app version). In addition, we include user device and web activity information, as well as app and event tokens in this analysis. The processing of this data takes place exclusively on a pseudonymised basis. You can at any time deactivate or set back the IDFA, the Android advertising ID and the Huawei ID through your operating system. In the event that IDFA is not available, we use SkAdNetwork, Apple's attribution API, to attribute installations of our app to an advertising campaign. The legal basis is your consent (see also section 2 of the data protection policy).

Google Ads Customer Matching

We use the "Google Ads Customer Matching" service of Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland (hereinafter "Google") in the Lidl Plus app. In this process, lists with user data are sent to Google servers with the support of the tracking technologies used by us. Google then compares whether the transmitted user data matches data from Google customers and then creates target groups which can be used for the display of advertisements. The advertisements can be displayed within the Google network (YouTube, Gmail or within the search engine) as well as across devices (so-called remarketing or retargeting).

We have concluded a processing agreement with Google for the use of Google Ads Customer Matching pursuant to Art. 28 (3) UK GDPR. Through this contract, Google assures to process the personal data as instructed on behalf and to ensure the protection of the rights of the data subject.

The personal data will be deleted after the purpose has ceased to exist.

Information on how personal data is used by Google, which is transmitted to Google via the integration of the services, and regarding your settings options for personalized advertising and data collection, can be found here and here. General information on data processing by Google can be found in Google's privacy policy.

Meta/Facebook

We use the "Facebook Custom Audience" service of Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd, 4 Grand Canal Square, Grand Canal Harbour, Dublin 2, Ireland (hereinafter "Facebook") in the Lidl Plus app. Facebook Custom Audience enables us to form target groups and to design and carry out personalized ads on Facebook according to needs.

For this purpose, lists with user data are uploaded to Facebook - via our tracking technologies. Facebook then compares whether the submitted user data matches data from Facebook users and then creates target groups that can be used to target ads on Facebook. With Custom Audience, we ensure that ads are only displayed on Facebook to people who have previously visited our app or are interested in our products. Facebook also uses the data for its own advertising purposes and for third-party advertising purposes.

People remain in a Custom Audience for a maximum of 180 days. After 180 days, people who belong to the Custom Audience of the website are removed if they do not visit the website again.

We are joint controllers with Facebook regarding the use of Facebook Custom Audience according to Art. 26 UK GDPR. We have entered into a joint responsibility agreement to determine the respective responsibilities for fulfilling the obligations under the UK GDPR. According to this agreement, we are responsible for informing data subjects, while Facebook is responsible for fulfilling requests regarding data subjects' rights under Art. 15 to 21 of the UK GDPR. However, within the framework of joint responsibility, you can in principle assert your data subject rights against each of the joint controllers.

Facebook bases the processing of data on the consent of Facebook users pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. a UK GDPR and the legitimate interests of Facebook pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 p. 1 lit. f UK GDPR to ensure accurate and reliable reports or accurate performance statistics for Facebook's advertisers. You can find more information about this in Facebook Privacy Information or here. You can contact Facebook's data protection officer here.

You can object to the use of the Custom Audiences service globally on the Facebook website. After logging in to your Facebook account, you will be taken to the Facebook Ads settings.

Withdrawal of your consent

If you would like to withdraw your tracking consent during your use of Lidl Plus, you can do so at any time with effect for the future and manage the tracking after completing registration via the opt out within the app under "More" → "Legal information" → "Sharing data".

In order to use the functions of the map services, it is necessary to process your IP address within the framework of Internet communication. This is usually processed on a server of the respective operating systems. We have no influence on the concrete data processing by providers of the operating systems. When you click on one of the in-app banners of the featured products you will be redirected to the website/app or to your respective app store. The links may include special tracking technologies which will allow the operators of said websites/apps to understand and to measure where the user learnt about them. We encourage you to review the corresponding privacy policy of each website/app you will be redirected to in order to understand what information will be processed about you by the operator. When redirecting you to any of these website/apps, we process your personal data in order to comply with your (technical) request to visit the respective app or website (Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR), as well as based on the operator's legitimate interest in carrying out advertising (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

1.13 Newsletter/ Push Notifications/ SMS

In addition, we collect information about your user behaviour in relation to the newsletter and other information that we send you as push messages or SMS, store and if possible, assign it to you or your e-mail address or customer number. In relation to this we collect information about time of opening the message and the links or areas clicked by you, selected products, time, duration, and frequency of usage.

We also collect and use this data if you have consented to this (see also paragraph 2 of this data protection policy).

1.14 Special categories of personal data

We do not process Special Categories of personal data e.g. your health, religion or ethnic origin.

2. For what purpose and the legal basis do we process your personal data?

We process the data for the following purposes.

2.1 Purpose of Communication, Identification and Protection of your Customer Profile

Your personal data collected as part of the registration is used to communicate with you as well as the clear assignation of your shopping and user behaviour to your customer profile.

If, as part of using our app or in the settings of your mobile device, you consent to the use geo-location, we use this function to be able to offer you services related to your location. We process your location and network as part of the function "store locator", "Charging stations locator" and "Partner offers locator" to be able to display the closest stores to you. Your geo-location data is not stored permanently by us.

As part of your registration, we ask for your date of birth (see paragraph 1 above) to verify your age for reasons of protecting children and age limits for advertising certain products e.g. alcoholic drinks.

We use your e-mail address to protect you from unauthorised access, by sending you an e-mail alert when there is access to your account by an unknown device.

Processing of this kind takes place based on legal regulations that allow us to process personal data insofar as it is required for using a service or fulfilling a contract (Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR), and because we have a primary legitimate interest in making the use of the app as easy and efficient as possible (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

In the event of product recalls, we check whether you have purchased the affected product in order to be able to inform you about the recall. For this purpose, we use the information about the products you have purchased (compare above "Store Visits"). In addition, we use your purchase behavior from the online shop for fraud prevention.

The processing is carried out in order to protect your health (Art. 6 Par. 1 d) UK GDPR), and because we have a legitimate interest in informing you about any product recalls (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

2.2 Purpose of Optimising advertising measures, the store network and store design

When your address details are also available to us, we use these for optimising advertising measures (especially leaflet distribution, poster advertising) and for optimising the store network and design. Providing details of your address is voluntary. This data is processed based on our legitimate interest in the optimisation of sales channels (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

2.3 Purpose of Determining your Product Interests

To present you and other customers with the best possible individual offers and carry out targeted customer surveys, we would like to get to know you better.

For this we determine, on the basis of all the personal data listed in section 1, in particular your transaction data from Lidl Plus as well as information that we receive from the Lidl online store or other apps, websites or digital services described above, which products, specials and services could be interesting and relevant to you. We use mathematical-statistical methods to determine this correlation. For this purpose, your personal data is compared with the data of other customers. On the basis of this comparison, we can then deduce which other products and promotions that other customers with comparable interests have been interested in could also be of interest to you and other customers.

Using this information, we can draw your attention to specials for your favourite products in the Lidl Plus app and on the website of the respective online shop or the individual digital service, for example, offer you special prices, discount coupons and other benefits for you and inform you about attractive offers as part of specials.

For this purpose, you will receive (if possible personalised) information about products, promotions, competitions, new services and news from the streaming-, branch-, online shop-, flower, photo- and travel offer and for surveys.

By measuring your app usage (see above), we also gain general insights into the optimisation of our Lidl Plus app and the success of our advertising campaigns. In addition, we provide our advertising partners with statistically processed, anonymous data (based on your app usage as well as your purchased products) on the success of their advertising campaigns for billing purposes and to optimise their marketing campaigns. Our advertising partners cannot trace this information back to you personally.

Furthermore, personalised user profiles may be used to better tailor a possible advertising approach to your personal interests and to improve the advertising offer to you. This advertising approach takes place in particular in the form of newsletters. The user profile contains information about your use of Lidl Plus.

These processing operations are carried out on the basis of statutory provisions that allow us to process personal data insofar as it is necessary for the use of a service or the performance of a contract (Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR).

Provided you have given the appropriate consent, information that we have read from your mobile device can also be included in this profile. This processing is based on your consent (Art. 6 Par. 1 a) UK GDPR). This applies to the data processing described above under "Online Shop", "Analysis of User Behaviour" and "Newsletter/ Push Notifications/ SMS", as well as the transfer of data to our advertising partners for the payout of (advertising) content on third-party services.

In addition to increasing the informative value of the profile, we also use these findings to optimise the Lidl Plus app and our other online services, provided that this is covered by your consent. This processing is based on your consent (Art. 6 Par. 1 a) UK GDPR).

2.4 Purpose of optimising our store and online offers

If you participate in our voluntary surveys, we use this information to optimise our store and online offers. We process this data because we have an overriding legitimate interest in aligning our offers as closely as possible with your interests (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

2.5 Purpose of receiving marketing communications

If you have given us your express advertising consent, we will also send you information about the program benefits, e.g., details about the program, information about new program partners and partner benefits, special customer promotions and (if possible, personalized) information about products, promotions, competitions, new services and news from the streaming-, store-, online shop-, flower-, photo- and travel-offers by e-mail, SMS or push message.

This processing takes place because you have given us your consent (Art. 6 Par. 1 a) UK GDPR).

2.6 Purpose of location and time-based Coordination

We process and use your personal data in relation to the location and time of your shopping to be able to provide you with time- and location-based advertising, e.g. by push messaging to your mobile or by SMS. If your preferred shopping day is for example the Saturday, we can inform you about the existing sales specials for this weekday. In addition, we can present you with a regional specific offer, if we are informed about in which region you prefer to do your shopping.

Push notifications are messages that are sent from the app to your device. The app uses push notifications if you have agreed to receive push notifications when installing the app or at any time during use of the app in your device settings. You can deactivate push notifications at any time.

We analyse place and time of your shopping which is necessary for the performance of a contract (Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR) and because we have a legitimate interest in adapting our offers as best as possible to the conditions of time and place (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

2.7 Purpose of processing customer requests

Personal data that you provide us with when you contact customer service, e.g. via our contact form, will of course be treated confidentially. We use your data exclusively for the purpose of processing your inquiry and to handle and answer your privacy right requests.

In order to be able to process your customer service inquiries in the best possible way, we also make the data provided above available to other Lidl Companies. This means that it is not necessary to record and store this data again in order to process your inquiries. The Lidl Companies use your data exclusively for the purpose of verifying you as a customer or user and processing your inquiry.

The processing of this data is necessary for the performance of a contract (Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR) as well as within our legitimate interest (Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR).

Our and your (legitimate) interest in this data processing results from the goal of answering your inquiries, solving any problems that may arise and thus maintaining and promoting your satisfaction as a customer or user of our service or those of other Lidl Companies.

The legal basis for processing your requests under data protection law is Art. 6 Par. 1 c) UK GDPR, as this is necessary to comply with our legal obligation to process your request.

2.8 Purpose of providing the app

We process the data collected in the course of using the app so that our app can function properly. In particular, we need this information so that the app can save your preferred settings, such as country and language, so that we can quickly solve technical problems and so that you can access certain areas. This data is not used to create user profiles.

This processing is necessary for the performance of a contract by ensuring Lidl Plus is working accurately (Art.6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR.

1. The use of maps services is based on our contractual relationship with you, Art. 6 Par. 1 b) UK GDPR as well as on our legitimate interest of an appealing presentation of our offers and making it easy to find the locations we have indicated in the App. This constitutes a legitimate interest within the meaning of Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR.

2.9 Purpose of the product history

If you have reserved products via the Lidl Plus app, we will show you these in a history so that you can gain an overview of your reservations. The legal basis for the associated data processing is Art. 6 (1) b) UK GDPR, i.e. we process your data to implement our user relationship with you.

2.10 Purpose of fraud prevention

In order to prevent economic damage to Lidl, we analyse their shopping behavior using the Lidl Plus app for fraud prevention purposes. In particular, we also evaluate whether and how often items are returned. The legal basis for this is Art. 6 Par. 1 f) UK GDPR. Our legitimate interest follows from the described purposes of the processing.

3. To whom do we forward your personal Data?

In the event of justified requests from authorities, we will pass on the requested data. We also make your personal data available to third parties as follows:

3.1 Disclosure to service providers

We use service providers to process your data. The companies working for us in this way are carefully selected and contracted in writing. They are bound by our instructions and are assessed before starting data processing and subsequently on a regular basis. These companies never pursue their own purposes with your personal data within the scope of their activities for us.

In connection with this we forward your details to receivers who:

- Provide storage capacity, databank systems or similar things,
- Provide technical support,
- Consulting services in the field of marketing provide.

In connection with the use of Meta services, data is transferred to Meta (see section 1.12 of this privacy policy).

- Your product preferences determined for the targeted presentation of content relevant to you.
- If you participate in a sweepstake or contest ("Campaign") organised by the Lidl Companies, we transmit the data fields listed in the Terms of Use of the Campaign (e.g., customer number (Loyalty ID), phone number, email address, date of birth, etc.).
- Only when customers are directed to the online store for the purchase of a Flash Sales product, we send your product price, item number and transaction ID to the Lidl Companies for the provision of the service, in particular for the purchase in the online store, the display of the correct price in the online store, the display of the correct inventory in the Lidl Plus app, etc. Apart from this, we do not pass on the data to third parties.
- Insofar as it is necessary to process an inquiry via our customer service, we also pass on the above-mentioned data to those Lidl companies with whom you contact in the context of customer service inquiries. Furthermore, it may be necessary for us to pass on extracts of your inquiry to contractual partners (e.g., suppliers in the case of product-specific inquiries) in order to process your inquiry.
- If fraud is suspected or Lidl suffers economic damage, we will pass on the requested data on your purchase/return behaviour to the Lidl companies.

Only if you gave your consent to the Lidl online shop or any other digital services, apps, websites of companies belonging to Lidl Companies such as click and collect services, flower shop, travel booking, online receipts, photograph services, Mr. Cuisine app, Lidl Home app, third party benefits website etc. to analyse your use of Lidl Plus app and/or the linking of data from Lidl Plus with data from the aforementioned Lidl services, including the type, quantity and price of the products you have purchased in Lidl stores and your user behaviour in relation to our newsletter, including such information like the time of opening of the newsletter, the links or areas clicked by you, duration and frequency of use, we will make that information available to the corresponding national company.

If you reserve products via the Lidl Plus App for later purchase in a Lidl shop, we will transmit a list of the reserved products and your order number to Lidl [Lidl Great Britain Limited]. The company is solely responsible for the use of this information for the later processing of the purchase contract with you under data protection law. The legal basis for this transmission is Art. 6 para. 1 b) UK GDPR, i.e. the implementation of pre-contractual measures in response to your request.

If we transfer personal data to recipients in the third-party countries (countries outside of the UK and the European Economic Area) you can derive that from the information regarding data processing by our service providers described in the present data protection policy. Through the adoption of adequacy decisions, the European Commission determined whether such third-party country offers an adequate level of data protection. The exact list of the country with an adequacy decision can be found here: https://commission.europa.eu/law/law-topic/data-protection/international-dimension-data-protection/adequacy-decisions\_en. If for a third-party country no adequate protection level has been determined by the European Commission, we ensure that the adequate level of data protection is provided by other measures such as: binding corporate rules, standard contractual clauses, certifications mechanism or recognised codes of conduct. Please contact our data protection officer (Page 1) in case that you would like to obtain further information.

4. How do we ensure Confidentiality for your personal Data?

To ensure confidentiality of your personal data, it is prohibited to our employees working in data processing to collect, process or use personal data in any unauthorised way. Our carefully recruited employees are highly aware of data protection issues and are contractually committed to data secrecy before the start of their employment contract and this obligation continues to exist after termination of the employment relationship.

5. How do we ensure the Safety of your personal Data?

The safety of your data is very important to us. Therefore, we maintain technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data especially from dangers in data transmission and from falling into the hands of unauthorised third parties. These measures are regularly adjusted and updated to modern technology.

6. How long do we store your personal Data?

We anonymise your personal data as soon as it is no longer required for the purposes for which we process it according to the paragraphs above. Generally, we store your personal data for the duration of your participation in the service Lidl Plus. If you are inactive for 24 months, we will inform you about the pending deletion. In this case you can object to the deletion by opening or logging into the app again.

Otherwise, the data is deleted after 72 hours from cancelling Lidl Plus. Within these initial 72 hours you have the option to re-instate your customer account by logging in again. The deletion process is then cancelled. If your data is required longer due to legal storage periods or to secure, assertion or enforcement of legal claims, we store your data corresponding with data protection regulations after the cancellation of Lidl Plus, as long as required in each case by law or required to fulfil the purposes.

All personal data that you send us when you contact customer service will be deleted or anonymised by us at the latest 3 years after the final reply has been given. Experience has shown that, as a rule, queries regarding our answers do not occur after 90 days. If you assert your rights as a data subject your personal data will be stored for 3 years after the final reply has been given to you as proof that we have provided you with comprehensive information and that the legal requirements have been met.

7. What Rights do you have in relation to the Processing of your Data?

You have the right to receive, upon request, information about the personal data stored with us about you, free of charge, commonly known as data subject access request (Article 15 UK GDPR) especially the data stored about your person, the receiver or the categories of receivers to whom it is forwarded, the purpose of data storage etc.

In addition, under the relevant legal conditions you have the right to have incorrect data corrected; or you can have your personal data deleted and restrict the processing or transmission. Further, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the responsible supervisory authority.

In the cases where the data processing is based on our legitimate interest or in the public interest (Art. 6 Par. 1 e) or f) UK GDPR), or takes place for the purpose of direct marketing, you have the right to object to the processing.

If you gave consent, you can at any time revoke it with effect for the future, e.g., within the app under "Help" -> "Contact us" or (if you would like to directly deselect individual notification channels) under "Settings" -> "Notifications" or by contacting our Customer Service team here or emailing customercare@lidl.co.uk

8. No Obligation to provide Data

You do not have the obligation to give the previously mentioned voluntary details. However, without providing certain data you are unable to use Lidl Plus. Only optional data fields are marked as such.

9. Can we change the Data Protection Policy?

Changes to this in data protection policy can become necessary due to changes in legal position or conditions of data processing of Lidl Plus.
